

Week beginning 12/11/18

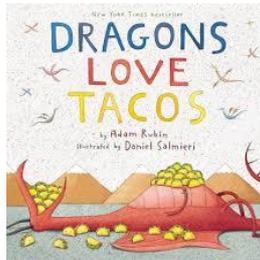

This week your child was learning about: Spanish Culture

Literacy

Our book of the week was:

Dragons Love Tacos by Adam Rubin

We introduced this book as it was a fun way to discover about a different food from a different culture. On Thursday the children were able to taste some of the foods featured in the story.

Word on the Street:

This week our word is: Translate

This week the children learned that to change one language to another language is to translate. We talked about how we translate in our Spanish session all the time. We learned how to translate "I want to be your friend" to "Quiero ser tu amigo",

Numeracy

Counting:

This week the children have been learning to count one more than. Which is a good foundation to learn addition.

Phonics

This week we learned the sounds f, l, j

Find these sounds in the world around us. Practice writing them where you can.

Topic: Spanish Culture

This week the children learned about the celebration of Spanish Culture. We discussed how Spanish culture is not just in Spain but around the world. We did focus on Mexico and learned some fun facts and discovered interesting food from this region. We also sang our favourite songs in Spanish.

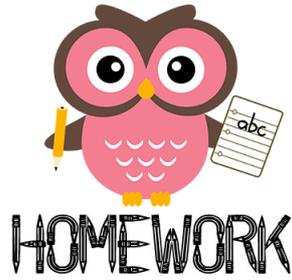

How you can help your child at home:

Practice the sounds of the week, Try blending the sounds they know into small words like jam, lick, hop, flip etc.

Practice writing as much as you can.

Practice finding a number and add one more. Ask the children if they know what the answer is.

Have your child teach you the Spanish songs we have been singing.

Things to remember:

- Every Thursday children must bring in their PE kits. We are now officially changing for PE and the children will need the appropriate clothing.
- Next week is Thanks Giving in America. We thought it might be a nice idea for the children to donate a tin of food next week and then over the next few weeks we will arrange a visit for the children to deliver them to our local food bank.

Thank you for your ongoing support.
